

When Faith Meets Pedagogy 2018

A Conference for Catholic Educators and Catholic Community Partners
October 25-27, Toronto

The conference opened with the Directors' Dinner, where all present would be inspired by the Opening Liturgy and Keynote Sr Dr Nuala Kenny. She discussed the challenge of educating prophets of justice, care and compassion.

Sr Nuala reminds us that prophets call out into the wilderness, often to an audience that does not want to hear the message. Prophets rarely feel up to the task and often make people feel uncomfortable.

OAPCE participated in this incredible Conference. Our President, Annalisa Crudo-Perri, attended the Director's Dinner, and was there to promote the Association with a table in the Vendor Mall.

We are called to #RenewingthePromise. Bishop Bergie encourages and reminds us that we are not alone. We function best as one body with Christ as our head!

Archbishop Thomas Cardinal Collins celebrated Mass and reminded us that the purpose of Catholic education is to teach us to read the sign of the times through the interpretive key of our faith.

“We need the interpretive key that unlocks the meaning of the experiences of our lives.”

“Lead a life worthy of your calling”

“Prayer and reflection is what helps us to interpret life, leads to insight and gives us wisdom.”
